

ERROR ANALYSIS - 2

Dr. N. Balasubramanian

Head of the Department, Bharathiar university, Coimbatore

Problems:

1. Your results depend not only on how long you have studied but also on how long you have read.
2. If you would have seen yesterday's cricket, I am sure you would have enjoyed seeing our team bat.
3. These kind of dresses seem to be expensive but it is relatively economical to maintain them.
4. It was her who suggested that you be at the door to welcome each participant on his arrival.
5. As we see it, she appears to be unreasonable anxious about pleasing her husband.
6. I began relating several details connecting with the accident unmindful of boring the audience.
7. She stated to me as blunt as she could the reasons why she was opposed to my thoughtless suggestion.
8. Many a man has realised that real happiness lies in making sacrifices and not in personal aggrandisement.
9. I am opposed to the plan of action not because it is il-conceived but that it seems impractical
10. It was barely midnight when I arrived home but I found them both sitting at the table, waiting on me.
11. There is many important details to attend to before this book gets printed.
12. Along the northern frontier of India is seen the Himalayas, mighty in their splendour.
13. They questioned me unendingly about my participation in the conference here I had made some real valuable contributions.
14. She was noticeably upset by how indignant he responded to her final question.
15. Although there are some similarities in the qualifications of both candidates, the differences among them are considerably pronounced.
16. Any woman who is certain of her judgement is sure a match for a man who doesn't know his own mind.
17. During the final minutes of his speech, the speaker requested to the audience to hold its applause.
18. Is there further reasons you can give me for your failure to do as you promised?
19. I am disappointed in not having saw any plays while I was in Delhi on vacation.
20. For her sake, as well as for Mohan, I hoped fervently that she might get the job.
21. In evaluating your progress, I have taken into account your classroom performance, your receptivity and how you have improved.
22. Him not agreeing to accept the proposals outlined by the committee is baffling.
23. A body of volunteers have been organised to help the faculty in their attempt to raise funds.

24. The central library, with a large number of books in its stacks, attracts students from most every constituent college.
25. Like the committee has written in its current report, the rules need to be enforced more strictly.
26. Each of the students whom I have chosen to take part in the discussion have indicated that he will be happy to do so.
27. Each cigarette which a person smokes does some harm and eventually you may get a serious disease from its effects.
28. Honestly speaking, I like him not because he is handsome and charming but that he is exceedingly kind.
29. One should take advantage of opportunities to talk with native speakers if one wants to improve your English.
30. The alarmed report of a nearby earthquake frightened everyone in that disaster prone village.
31. This widely publicised detergent is not much different than the one which I have been using.
32. I wrote a paper on a popular subject that had been the subject of great controversy among grammarians for many years.
33. He used rather harsh words in denouncing her, but he must have had some very strong reason for doing so.
34. The green paint on the wall provides a suitable contrast with the yellow doors
35. How I wish it had been me whom you had chosen and not she.
36. She is one of those persons whom I am sure, always do their best even in most trying circumstances.
37. If one could possibly answer the question, 'what makes a person feel lonely', one of the great mysteries of the human's heart would be solved.
38. Most of us see the Punjab riots as one more incident leading to a civil war.
39. By the time the plane had arrived I nearly had, despaired of being able to board it
40. Neither your earnest pleadings nor your profuse tears have made me change my decision.
41. Whom did you mean to hurt by your unkind remarks except Sita and I?
42. Entering the crowded store saw two vaguely familiar faces.
43. We will learn a lot by attending in English course, isn't it?
44. I would like you to meet my cousin brother who has just returned from the States.
45. The Director knowing of my interest in linguistics asked me that I would like to attend the national seminar.
46. It looks she is just an inch taller than I.
47. The request of the Students Union President that fees be lowered were immediately supported by a vast majority.
48. Most of us are not aware that eating some varieties of mushrooms result in death.
49. After Napoleon had lost the Battle of Waterloo in 1815 he had been exiled to the island of St. Helena.

50. We are always complaining that prices are too high and that we are not getting out money's worth.

Answers:

1. Your results depend not only on how long you have studied but also on how long you have read. (No error)
2. If you had seen yesterday's cricket, I am sure you would have enjoyed seeing our team bat.
3. These kinds of dresses seem to be expensive but it is relatively economical to maintain them.
4. It was she who suggested that you be at the door to welcome each participant on his arrival.
5. As we see it, she appears to be unreasonably anxious about pleasing her husband.
6. I began relating several details connected with the accident unmindful of boring the audience.
7. She stated to me as bluntly as she could the reasons why she was opposed to my thoughtless suggestion.
8. Many a man has realised that real happiness lies in making sacrifices and not in personal aggrandisement. (No error)
9. I am opposed to the plan of action not because it is ill-conceived but because that it seems impractical.
10. It was barely midnight when I arrived home but I found them both sitting at the table, waiting for me.
11. There are many important details to attend to before this book gets printed.
12. Along the northern frontier of India are seen the Himalayas, mighty in their splendour.
13. They questioned me unendingly about my participation in the conference here I have made some really valuable contributions.
14. She was noticeably upset by how indignantly he responded to her final question.
15. Although there are some similarities in the qualifications of both candidates, the differences between them are considerably pronounced.
16. Any woman who is certain of her judgement is surely a match for a man who doesn't know his own mind.
17. During the final minutes of his speech, the speaker requested the audience to hold its applause.
18. Are there further reasons you can give me for your failure to do as you promised?
19. I was disappointed in not having seen any plays while I was in Delhi on vacation.
20. For her sake, as well as for Mohan's, I hoped fervently that she might get the job.
21. In evaluating your progress, I have taken into account your classroom performance, your receptivity and how much you have improved.
22. His not agreeing to accept the proposals outlined by the committee is baffling.
23. A body of volunteers has been organised to help the faculty in their attempt to raise funds.
24. The central library, with a large number of books in its stacks, attracts students from almost every constituent college.

25. As the committee has written in its current report, the rules need to be enforced more strictly.
26. Each of the students whom I have chosen to take part in the discussion has indicated that he will be happy to do so.
27. Each cigarette which a person smokes does some harm and eventually he may get a serious disease from its effects
28. Honestly speaking, I like him not because he is handsome and charming but because that he is exceedingly kind.
29. One should take advantage of opportunities to talk with native speakers if one wants to improve one's English.
30. The alarming report of a nearby earthquake frightened everyone in that disaster prone village.
31. This widely publicised detergent is not much different from the one which I have been using.
32. I wrote a paper on a popular subject that had been a topic of great controversy among grammarians for many years.
33. He used rather harsh words in denouncing her, but he must have had some very strong reason for doing so. (No error)
34. The green paint on the wall provides a suitable contrast for the yellow doors
35. How I wish it had been me whom you had chosen and not her.
36. She is one of those persons who I am sure, always does his best even in most trying circumstances.
37. If one could possibly answer the question, 'what makes a person feel lonely', one of the great mysteries of the human heart would be solved.
38. Most of us see the Punjab riots as one more factor leading to a civil war.
39. By the time the plane had arrived I had nearly, despaired of being able to board it.
40. Neither your earnest pleadings nor your profuse tears have made me change my decision. (No error)
41. Whom did you mean to hurt by your unkind remarks except Sita and me?
42. While entering the crowded store I saw two vaguely familiar faces.
43. We will learn a lot by attending English course, won't we?
44. I would like you to meet my cousin who has just returned from the States.
45. The Director knowing of my interest in linguistics asked me that I would like to attend the national seminar.
46. It looks she is just an inch taller than I.
47. The request of the Students Union President that fees be lowered was immediately supported by a vast majority.
48. Most of us are not aware that eating some varieties of mushrooms result in death.
49. After Napoleon had lost the Battle of Waterloo in 1815 he had been exiled to the island of St. Helena.
50. We are always complaining that prices are too high and that we are not getting out money's worth.